

Sam Gray

Graphic Designer

I'm a highly creative, multitalented graphic designer with a background centered in the sign and graphics industry. Through my experience in this field, I have developed extensive knowledge in many areas of design and digital print production. I can effectively put my skills to use in a variety of different applications such as printed media, trade show and POP displays, vehicle wraps, vinyl graphics and the whole realm of signage. With exceptional communication abilities, I'm skilled in client relations and negotiations, and I always strive to build and maintain reciprocal professional relationships.

My objective is to secure a fun and challenging position with a company in which I can grow.
